Good Luck

We would like to wish all our young people the very best of luck in their upcoming examinations!

↪ SQA Exam Diet 2024

The SQA Exam diet begins on Monday 22nd April.

SQA Assemblies were delivered to all young people in S4, S5 and S6 at the end of last term to share information about what to expect during their exams.

Young people were also issued a copy of the SQA Your Exams Guide 2024. If your young person was unable to attend their assembly they should collect a copy of this guide from the school office.

Each young person sitting at least one National 5, Higher or Advanced Higher exam has been issued with a bespoke timetable. If your young person has not received a copy of their exam timetable please contact the school office.

Our annual survey

↪ To help us on our journey of continual improvement, we would be grateful if you would complete our parent / carer survey that can be accessed by clicking below.

I can assure you that all feedback is considered and used to help us in our attempts to be the very best school for our young people.

Next week, a similar survey will be issued to young people to gather their views, along with similar surveys for staff and partners.

S4 May programme

- ↔ Some of our young people in S4 will not be sitting any National 5 exams. Those young people are not entitled to study leave and should attend school.

At the start of period 1 on Monday (22nd), S4 young people in this category should meet with Mr Millar in the Dining Centre to discuss the plan for May.

School Captains

- ↔ Introducing our new School Captains for the next academic session...

Congratulations to Inaaya Ishaq and Darci Reid

Leadership Team Changes

↩ Mr Beattie has been appointed to the post of Depute Head Teacher at Baldragon Academy for the following academic session. Mr Beattie will be sorely missed but is only going on loan for a year!

Mr Beattie will leave us from the start of study leave and, at that point, the following key changes will take place between then and the change of timetable at the end of May.

Mrs McKinlay will take over as the acting House Head of Forres and Miss Chacko will return to her role as House Head of Cawdor.
